This aspiration prayer was written so that the great enlightened form of the supreme emanation Rigdzin Longyang Rinpoche will be swiftly healed after experiencing a little discomfort and then dwell in the essence of immortal life forevermore. After being formally asked by the steward of this precious supreme emanation, I, the lowly person that is merely stained with the name Sangye Nyenpa, prayed to the three supreme jewels and composed this prayer.

At the request of Lama Tsültrim Allione during the Dzinpa Rangdröl White Dakini Drubchen at the glorious and magical Tara Mandala in the summer of 2017, Eric Fry-Miller translated this profound prayer which poetically weaves together pure aspirations for longevity, the hidden meanings of Rigdzin Longyang Rinpoche’s names, and the profound key points of the great perfection practices of cutting through (tregchö) and direct crossing (thögal).
